Dear Agent/Publisher:

I am seeking representation and/or publishing of Messiah of GoGoBah, Stories of Ranskilta, a 28,500 word sci-fi novella. I thought of you because of your interest in sci-fi and emerging voices.

Messiah follows a team of space junkers: Captain Shabu, Graham, Durian and Buckwith, charged with removing debris that is blocking the sun from Earth. During their mission, Graham pulls in an object that unexpectedly transports him to another planet, which kicks off the story arc of trying to bring Graham home.

I think you will enjoy the levity, humor and outlandishness in the piece. It's a Wizard of Oz meets Aliens blend. There are some very willful characters that charge through the story. I also think you're gonna love Spacecat.

Thank you for considering.

Sincerely,

Todd Fiorentino
